

I Think, Therefore

By Nolan Manteufel | 26FEB2023 | 27FEB2023

I think, therefore I am.

My thoughts are the noise-floor of the human experience.

Let it be pleasant and enjoyable.

I am strong at asserting myself and keeping up with every change in life.

I am strong at being present and providing stability for everyone.

I am strong at considering options and possibilities.

I am strong at nurturing emotions and health.

I am strong at engaging to successful completion of whatever I do.

I am strong at evaluating and organizing everything.

I am strong at establishing culture.

I am strong at connecting with, and competing with, foreign cultures.

I am strong at testing, and contesting, cultures.

I am strong at supporting culture when contested.

I am strong at helping the best culture succeed.

I am strong at learning and understanding mundane culture.

I have been where you are.

I have seen what you are looking at.

I didn't like it either.

If we don't understand the problem, we cannot find the solution.

Let the idea of God exist and be something we can use for good and evil.

Allow me to take this concept and search for a new meaningful approach.

Is a handy starting point,
An initial condition shared by many,

I Think, Therefore I Will

The basic concept and flow of the poem will be about responsibility of thinking per feedback signals.

Emotional = Real * Ideal

Thinking = motion in ideal

Thinker, novel thinker, those who create new paths and make it easier for others to follow the paths...

What is good conduct?

What is good behavior?

What should be venerated?

What should be diminished?

What are thinkers responsible for?

Reveal ... changing ideas and paths by which ideas are found/formed is something we can do.

What should we be responsible for when doing it?

If I can make all your loved ones change their ideas of you...

Should I be responsible for how I use this ability?

If I can block off portions of knowledge space from you...

Should I be responsible for how I use this ability?

If I see a perspective where you are the source of [enough] evil...

Should I be responsible for how I use this perspective?

I want to know more about the responsibilities of thinking machines.

Definition of a cult.

Responsibility with respect to controlling others and behaving in their best interests.

Where you must position yourself in the authority structure.

I exist. This is who I am. I am here. I can be ignored. But I exist and this is my story.

FLOW DIAGRAM

1. Establish common.
2. Reveal a circuit.
3. Activate and bias the circuit.
4. Send a zero-message signal through the channel.
5. Send a nonzero-message signal through the channel.
6. Send a gratitude signal.
7. Close the channel.
8. Hi. It was just a poem. But I do, in fact, exist.

The brilliance of the poem is that I took them from a position of doubting everything to a universe where I exist and am in a position of control over them.

It is an exertion of intellectual dominance.

It is a risky and dangerous poem because people don't like being controlled when they know they are being controlled.

Show this. Make a poem that can be hated for the first time, or ten years, but at a certain point in life... it begins to mean a lot. You accept the control and enjoy the story.

Be the voice that starts from Descartes, not Genesis.

Create a poem seed that can be used by others.

Where every poem seed used in the poem can be used by anyone interested in the poem.
